colin.peterson@pfgusa.com
www.Deutz-FahrAmerica.com Deutz-Fahr's new final tier 4 orchard/vineyard tractors only use a diesel oxidation catalyst (DOC) to meet the latest emission requirements. Power comes from a 3.8L, four-cylinder engine, turbocharged and intercooled, which is the largest engine in this tractor class. The DOC ensures reliability and simplicity of operation (doesn't require any regen cycle) while maintaining a low-profile hood line. Standard equipment includes four-wheel braking, front and rear differential lock, and various transmission and width configurations to meet the demanding needs of specialty tractor applications.

niubo.info/index.php/es/
The NIUBO group manufactures agricultural and forestry equipment used throughout the world. Niubo produces flail mowers and shredders in various widths, configurations and price points, so they are able to provide an implement that really suits the farmer's needs — be it price, width or features. Their Kompact low-profile flail series (belt housing under 20" tall), ranging from 4' to 10' widths, feature an industry leading 8mm thick housing, that are made with DOMEX 700 high strength elastic steel. This provides lighter machines, but with ultra-strong, long lasting housings that will ensure extreme durability.
